CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

A. Background

Writing is a very difficult activity for students at schools. Writing is one of the English skills that are essential teaching materials in schools. Many students face this difficulty in writing especially to organize a new word or sentence, writing is taught from college to university level because as we all know the writing process is very complex. based on the results, the level of understanding a students gains in relation to student's performance is referred to a cumulative score of less than 75 (KKM). Writing is a way to develop our ideas or opinions. Writing can also give meaning to experiences for oneself and for other.

Writing has many aspects, such as vocabulary, tension, word formation, and interpretation of the use of other language. Writing is inseparable from vocabulary and grammar. Students need to know and understand the importance of language components to make good sentence. Also, writing is more complex than other English skills. Writing are not only about grammar and vocabulary, but also about conceptual elements and judgment. Therefore, writing must be established and learned gradually so that students can master it.

Writing skills are not focus only sentences or expressions but also various types of texts. There are many types of texts taught in High School. One of them is narrative text. Narrative text is a narrative text that presents a sequence of events according to the order of time. Narrative text tells about imaginary stories, fairy tales, or true stories. Students writing narrative texts based on what they see or read repeatedly.

Writing narrative text which students must know well what they want to narrate. According to Zum'arini Juni Solecah in her thesis, students' problems in writing are low in vocabulary; difficult to use good grammar, expressing their ideas and being less organized, and students' attention to lessons is low.¹ This problem is in line with what the researcher found in the field when doing initial research at the school was happened at Man 2 Barru school where student able to writing but compiling it into structured and systematic writing was far from ideal, and the data shows that it is still low in writing narrative texts. And as we also know, that the phenomenon of writing has been rooted for a long time, this is indeed that students must master many skills in one period not specialize in writing.

The research found that especially in writing narrative text, students are still low in writing, the difficulties they face, which arise are in the discrepancy between the theme and the title, sentence structure errors, inappropriate character traits and unclear storylines, use of punctuation and paragraph coherence, and some student's did not able to write orientation, even complication and resolution. The most difficult thing faced by students is to arrange parts of the text. In order to create a good writing, of course, students must have good basic skills.

The gap of this research may become very important to be studied, narrative text which identifying as low competence by students may be improved after did the experiment by the teacher, the problem which occur after learn many times at class was identifying after did the observation during the preobserving by the researcher at Man 2 Barru. Those all problems become the gap of the research.

In the process of teaching and learning, problems are not only encountered by students themselves, but also by a number of factors affecting teachers. They teach English in the traditional or conventional way. As we all know, in conventional education, the teacher is the center of learning or dominates the lesson. However, many students have difficulty in writing narrative text, especially in writing narrative paragraphs because the teacher only explains the general structure and method of writing narrative text, the teacher does not use any methods or strategies. Strategies to teach students. So that students lose interest, bored learning and difficult to learn autobiographical texts. They also couldn't figure out any storyline and couldn't compose the text correctly.

Because of the problems that arise in the process of teaching writing, teachers must find solutions to overcome these problems. One solution in teaching narrative text is to use blog media. According to Nanang Wahyudi, blogs are one of the strategic learning media to improve an active and interactive learning process². Blogs also provide an opportunity to make learning activities more interesting. That way students are motivated to learn narrative text.

Based on the explanation above, the researcher will carry out a research under the title “Using Blog as Media to Improve Students’ Writing Competence on Narrative Text in MAN 2 Barru”.

REVIEW OF RELATED LITERATURE

A. Previous Research Finding

Many researchers have conducted their research on students' motivation in identifying students' writing competence on narrative text by using "blog" as media . Their findings are consecutively presented below:

“Students Difficulties in Writing Narrative Text in Ninth Year Students by SMP Swasta Kristen bnkp Teluk Dalam”. Writer Tetema Telaumbanua concludes that students still have some writing difficulties. Difficulties are grammar, lack of vocabulary, spelling, punctuation and layout. The causes of the difficulties are the influence learning English, and the lack of vocabulary. Therefore, they must be taught seriously about the structure of English that proven to be the most difficult for students to write. As for what the previous research has in common with what the researcher is going to do, it is the same as discussing narrative text. While the difference is that the researchers discussed the media used in writing narrative text, and the previous researchers discussed the difficulties in writing narrative text.¹

“The Effect of Using Blog toward Students Motivation to Write Analytical Exposition Text”. Written by Ratna Dewi, Syahrul, Hilma Pami Putri, 2020. It was concluded that the use of blogs had a significant effect on student's motivation to write an analytical text that was taught by a blog was not taught without using a blog. This indicates that blogs can be used as an effective means of communication to increase students writing motivation. Therefore, teachers should develop classroom activities in teaching writing by integration blogs as a medium for teaching writing. The research also has similarities and differences with what the researcher will do, where this research also uses blog media as well as this research, but what distinguishes this research from previous research is that this study seeks to find out about students' narrative text writing competencies while previous studies discuss to write analytical exposition text. The research also has similarities and differences with what the researcher will do, where this research also uses blog media as well as this research, but what distinguishes this research from previous research is that this study seeks to find out about students' narrative text writing competencies while previous studies discuss to write analytical exposition text.²

“The application of Blog as a teaching media in improving students writing”. Written by Kurnia Febianti, Sri Wahyuni, 2019. It is concluded that blogging is an effective means of improving student's writing skills during the second semester of STKIP Muhammadiyah Pagar Alam. There has been considerable progress in students writing after blogging was adapted as a medium of instruction. In other words, blogging as a medium of instruction can significantly between the previous study and this study is that both used blogs to teach writing, but this study was more specific than the study of narrative writing.³

² Ratna Dewi, Syahrul, Hilma Pami Putri, The effect of Using Blog Toward Students Motivattion to Write Analytical Exposition Text, (Indonesia: Journal of English Language Pedagogy, 2020)

³ Kurnia Febrianti, Sri Wahyuni, The application of Blog as a media in improving studenst writing, (Indonesia: Educational Administation and Leadersgip Journal, 2019)

Based on some of these previous studies, we can see that the use of blogs is effectively used in writing learning media, but here the researcher wants to prove the significance of the data by Using “Blog” as Media to Improve Students’ Writing Competence on Narrative Text in MAN 2 Barru.

B. Some Pertinent Ideas

1. The Concept of Writing

a. Definition of Writing

Writing is one of the things that the most difficult for students especially writing by using a foreign language English. In this case, students are required to able to produce a good essay by following procedures based on language in good English rules and right. According to Don Byrne writing is from of communication to convey or express feelings in writing. When could say that writing is the act of forming these symbols: that is, letters or combinations of letters. We could say that writing is the act of forming these symbols: makingmarks on any flat surface. But writing is more than just the creation of graphic symbols. Symbols must be arranged to form words, and words, and words must be arranged from sentence.⁴

According ro Roslyn Patelin, writing is a process where reflection and learning take place. This process is called the writing-thinking-learning connection. It is a process of creating a communication product that follows the conventions of grammar, syntax, mechanics, and gender. Importantly, the written word also performs recognizable social media. We live in a

“participatory society” where social media constantly offers us the opportunity to interact in a global conversation.⁵

b. The Characteristics of Good Writing

Karl says that there are certain characteristics of well-written material. They did :

- a) Dokumentaion should focus on compensation rather than guidance. They sould strive to help students develop their own learning startegis.
- b) Material must be creative. They must provide stimulating activities to draw students attention to what is tobe learned.
- c) Material must be interesting. They must be relavant to be studenst interest. In addition, the document needs to have a variety of text styles and activities to promote students interest in learning literature.
- d) The material must be oriented to the task. They must use specific tastes to promote students learning and make them see the usefulness of writing.
- e) Materials must be practical. They have to deal with actual communication.⁶

c. The process

When students write, we want to involve them in the writing process. In “real word” this ususally involves planning what we’re going to write, writing it, revising and editing what we’ve written, and creating a final version (and satify).

⁵ Roslyn Petelin, How Writing Works A Field Guide To Effective Writing, (Prancis: Gramedia, Buku Kita.com, Routledge, 2021), p. 4

a) Planning

Planning is the process of making plans for what they are going to write. Before starting to write or type, they try and decided what it is are going to say. When planning, writers have to think about three main issues.in the first place they have to consider the purpose of their writing since this will influenced (amongst other things) not only the types of text wish to produce, but also the language they use, and the information they choose to include. Secondly, experinced writers think of the audience they are writing for, how the paragraphs are structured, ect), but also the choise of language-wheter, for example, it is formal or informal intone. Third, writers should consider the stuructured content of the place-that is, the best way to string together the facts, ideas or arguments they've decided to include.

b) Drafting

It refers to the first version of the text as a draft. This first “test” on a text is usually done with the assumption that it will be revised later. As the writing process turns to editing, several drafts may be created on the way to the final version.

c) Editing (reflecting and revising)

Once writer come up with a draft, they aften read through what they've written to see where it works and where it dosesn't. Maybe the order of the information is not clear. Maybe the spelling is vague or confusing. They can then move paragraphs or write a new introduction. They may use a different word form for a particular sentence. More experienced writers tend to look at question with general meaning and overall structure before focusing on detailed characteristics like individual words and grammatical accuracy. The last two are important and often come later in the process.

d) Final Version

Once editors have edited their draft, making any changes they deem necessary, they create their final version. It may look significantly different from both the original plan and the first draft, as things changed during the editing process. Even if they think it's their final version, they may find themselves changing their mind and then recording it or re-reading it.⁷

d. A Six-Step Process for Writing Reviews

- a) Introduce the topic of your review- the work analyzed and the author. Provide some preliminary information about both. Then point out the main point you intend to pursue in your discussion.
- b) Consider the background facts or underlying issues that need to be understood before the point of view of the peer-reviewed article can be appreciated. Additional biographical data? Is this one of a series of essays on this theme?
- c) Consideration of the information (including key assumptions of the author) must be understood before the position you intend to take on the paper can be appreciated. What are your assumptions? Do they differ or agree with what the author's?

⁷ Jeremy Harmer, How to Teach Writing (England: Pearson Education Limited, 2004), p. 4

- d) Summarize the argument of the author. No editorialization yet. be as objective as possible.
- e) Review of the author's argument in light of the position you identified in step 1 and further elaborated in step 3. Make certain that all points relate to your central thesis.
- f) State your conclusions, reminding the reader of the points you have made and the reasons you have for making them. You don't make arbitrary judgments, but you measure the validity of a presentation against a carefully defined set of criteria that you provided. What does your analysis show?⁸

e. The Effective Writing

According to Langan, to be effective in writing, you should follow four steps:

a) Make a point

To be effective in writing, the first step is to make a point. Usually located in the first sentence of your paragraph. The topic sentence contains the main idea of your paragraph that is usually called the topic sentence. Your paragraph will be unified if you make sure that all the details support the point in your topic sentence. It is helpful to remember that a topic sentence is a general statement. The sentences that follow it provide specific support for the general statement.

⁸ Leonard J. Rosen, Writing and Reading Across the Curriculum, (America: simultaneously in Canada, 1982), p. 41.

b) Back up your point

After make a point, you ought to bolster the point by giving a particular reason, case, and other subtle elements that can clarify and create it. The more exact and specific your supporting points of interest are, the superior your perusers can “see,” “hear,” and “feel” them.

c) Organize the support

The point step is you learn the flag words, or ordinary called moves. Moves are words and expressions that appear how one thought is related to another thought. They will mplanations. Posting arrange and time arrange are two conventional strategies of organizing bolster in a section.

Posting arrange is giving a list of the two or more reasons, illustrations, or points of interest. It makes a difference the author in organizing the supporting prove, in addition, the foremost interesting item is way better in case it is set within the final since a few perusers will keep in mind the final which is exmined. The cases of move word that pointout posting arrange are: one, for one thing, to begin with of expansion, following, additionally, moreover, final of all, at long last.

Time arrange is the supporting subtle elements which display the arrange in wichh they happened. It tells story a arrangement of headings. There are a few cases which demonstrate the time connections such as; to begin with, another, as, some time recently, amid, before long, after presently, afterward, when whereas, regularly, at that point, until, at last.

d) Write error-free sentences

In case you utilize adjust spelling and the take after the rules of linguistic use, accentuation, and utilization, your sentence will be clear and well composed. But by no implies must you have got all that data in your head. Indeed the leading composed have to be utilize reference materials to be beyond any doubt their composing is rectity. So once you compose your papers, keep a great word reference and linguistic use handbook adjacent.

In common, be that as it may, spare them for after you've gotten your thoughts solidly down in composing. You'll discover as you compose sections that you just will make a number of sentence mistakes. Basically disregard them until you get to a afterward draft of your paper, when there will a time sufficient to form the required adjustments.⁹

So, there are four steps to compelling in composing. Get it of successful composing can make the author simple to compose and making a difference to create a great essay.

f. The Component of writing

According to Weigle, there are five significant components in writing. The detail explanations are:

a) Content

The substance of composing ought to be clear for the perusers so that the perusers can get it the knead and pick up data shape it. In arrange to have a great substance of composing. Its substance ought to be well bound together and completed. This term is as a rule known as solidarity and completed, which gotten to be characteristic of great composing. There are three things that can be measured in associations with substance, the point of data to be brought. The grouping in which the point is displayed and formal signal that peruser to direct in understanding the subject completely.

b) Organization

Within the organization of composing, the author centers on how to organize and organize the thoughts chronologically. They too ought to show their thoughts based on the arrange which streams from the starting to the conclusion. There are numerous ways utilized to organize or organize the composing. Maybe the scholars organize their thoughts from particular to common. This organization is basically recognized as an order.

c) Vocabulary

Vocabulary is one of the language aspects dealing with the process of writing a study. Within the handle of composing, the author continuously considers around putting words into sentence and after that putting sentence a section until they can make a chunk of composing. The word reference or using words are exceptionally impressive in composing since vocabulary is one component of writing to precise thoughts. It can offer assistance us to create our composing. Subsequently, the more words you know, the able you select to precise your ideas.

d) Language use

Language use in composing includes the right utilization of the rules of dialect or linguistic use. It centers on verbs, religious woman, assentation, etc. particular things and solid verbs provide a peruser a mental picture of depiction. This particular thing can be characterized by utilizing the modifier of descriptive words, intensifiers, and participial frame.

e) Mechanics

Mechanics in composing bargain with capitalization, accentuation, and spelling fittingly. This viewpoint is exceptionally critical since it leads the peruser to get it and to recognize instantly what the author implies to precise unquestionably. The utilize of favorable mechanics in composting will make perusers easy to understanding the passing on thoughts other kneads expressed within the composing.¹⁰

From the description above, we can concluded that to measure writing there are five criteria that must be seen. We can use the five criteria as a reference for the score in assessing student's writing.

g. The Types of Writing

There were some types of writing are:

a) Narrative Writing

Narrative writing is storytelling at its most basic: it's all about sharing something that happens to a character. It can be an epic tale or a small anecdote; it can span years of time or a few minutes; it can be fact or fiction.

¹⁰ Sara Cushing Weigl, Assesing Writing, (Cambridge: Cmbriidge University Pers. 2002), P. 115.

Narrative writing uses many of the most common elements of storytelling, such as plot, character, setting, conflict, emotion, and a core message you're trying to get across. METHODOLOGY OF THE RESEARCH

A. Research Design

This research used pre-experimental design. These designs used help the researcher to have deep information to have the answer of the research question. In this design there is a pretest, before being given treatment and a posttest, after being given treatment. Thus the results of the treatment can be known more accurately, because it can be identified with the situation before being given treatment. Design according to Sugiyono¹, as follows:

B. Locaton and Time of Research

This research used be held at MAN 2 Barru, this research used spend 45 days includingof analysis data.

C. Population and Sample

1. Population

Research population is the entire research sample.² In this research the population were be the entire of students for tenth grade, the number of population is 62 students.

Table 3.1 Research Population

No	Class	Number of students
1	X. Mia 1	22
2	X. Mia 2	22
3	X. Mia 3	18
TOTAL		62

2. Sample

As the sample, it used random sampling by the researcher in order to get perfect data. The researcher will take class with X.Mia 3 total students are 18 students as the sample of the research.

D. Research instrument

The research writing used test for an instrument. The researcher asked the students to write Narrative text. This instrument tested the students for their ability in writing narrative text, the instrument is a tool for having proper data from the respondent as an subject of the research, the data reflected of every aspect which mention in previous term.

E. Procedure of collecting data

To make this research successful, the researcher conducted the several steps of collecting data:

- a) The researcher gave Pre-t est to the tenth grade students of MAN 2 Barru in the

- d) The research analyzed result of Pre-test score and Post-test score.

F. Treatmen

- a. Starting with essential question

Researchers will give questions to students to attract students' attention and want to know about the material being taught. Then it will provide some topics about the "narrative text" that will be done.

- b. Designing a plan working on narrative texts. In this case, the teacher acts as a monitor.

e. Assess Outcome

The researcher will evaluate the students' narrative texts that have been done and ask students to explain what they have done

G. Procedure of Data Analysis

Several stages used be followed to analysis the data which conducted from the instrument as follow:

1. Scoring Students" Correct Answer

The data of the researcher's test result for the students" activity during the teaching-learning process analyzed by using the pattern as follow:

A. Findings

The research result question referred to the processed of the findings, the researcher conducted several stage of teaching blog as media using in this research, several step can be explained below:

1. The Using of Blog as Media in Teaching Writing Competence

The using of blog in this research become the media for improving the student writing competence,

- a. Researchers consulted with RPPHer
- b. The researcher explains the stages of action that will be carried out in class
- c. The researcher explains the stages that will be carried out in class
- d. Researchers explain several indicators which are reference materials for teaching students
- e. The researcher shows the types of blog media and how to use them with students
- f. Researchers show indicators of mastery of student writing assessments using blog media

- g. Then the researcher and teacher agreed on all aspects of the planning stage to be used.

Based on the results of the plan, teachers and researchers discussed and collaborated with ideas that resulted in that, the media used to develop writing narrative texts was blog media, this media was more helpful for students to help students write narrative texts more quickly. This has been the plan used in this research proposal and later became part of the solution to develop writing mastery.

Based on the results of the initial observations made by the researchers. During the learning process, students seemed less enthusiastic in following the instructions by the teacher. The students feel less interested in following the instructions given by the teacher; it does not appear to be a persuasive direction. In addition, students also find it difficult to understand some of the words used by the teacher.

Learning to improve writing narrative texts is done by providing media that are considered capable of provoking students to be more interactive. This is obtained from observations and is part of the solution provided by teachers and researchers directly before implementation. Students still experience boredom in following the teacher's way to stimulate narrative writing mastery.

Based on the explanation above, the researcher agrees to use blog media to improve students' writing narrative text. The media is assumed to be able to improve students' visual performance in writing narrative texts. The research findings is the result of data which conducted from the instrument spreading by the researcher which referred to research question that are formulated in the first chapter. This result also presents the data processing of the students writing competence on narrative text in MAN 2 Barru .

The instrument spreading to the students was writing test, the test consisted of the writing test for the students, the students get asked to write the narrative text based on the concept of the research, According to the theory, this research used pre experimental research which the process of answering the research question, Descriptive research is a research method that seeks to provide a systematic and careful with the actual facts and the nature of certain population which in aim to solve the actual problems faced now and collect data or information to be arranged describe, and analyzed.

The research question answered by the writing test conducted on 14 Juni 2022 by face to facing to the students directly. The selection of the research, This research aim to known students' ability in writing a narrative text.

Sources : Primer Data Studenst Result

Based on the table above, the researcher can conclude that the ability to write narrative text before using blog media means that many students have a choice of basic words. The students' ideas are too general, maybe because students do not know a lot of vocabulary in English, and students have not been able to determine a good sentence by using the appropriate word in the appropriate sentence, and they also have not been able to determine the location of orientation, conflict, and resolution. Then, using blog media, students can better understand the structure of writing narrative text, where students already understand more about orientation, conflict, and resolution, and how to make it.

The researcher concludes that the use of blog media as a narrative text learning material can increase students' knowledge in writing narrative text. The result of the students' score may be seen in the category of the result. The data showed an average score of 56.00, which is categorized as Poor category. This result may become a valid indicator before we get to the conclusion of the research.

Based on the data above, the researcher concludes that the use of blog media as a narrative text learning material can improve students' knowledge of writing narrative text. The result of the students' score may be seen in the category of the result. The data showed an average score of 56.00, which is categorized as Poor category. This result may become a valid indicator before we get to the conclusion of the research.

Furthermore, the results of student scores can be seen in the results category. The data shows an average value of 78.78, which is included in the good category. These results can be a valid indicator before arriving at the conclusion of the study.

The explanation above was from the result which was gotten from the instrument. The instrument used in this research was a writing test. The purpose of this instrument was to know the students' abilities in writing narrative text. This writing test used by the researcher already fulfills the criteria to be valid data for this quantitative research.

3. Improvment of Students' Competence Using Blog At MAN 2 Barru

The Third research question was identifying for any improvment of students competence after using Blog at MAN 2 Barru. The theory explained about comparing students competence after using Blog as media in MAN 2 Barru. The data is explained for the category of the result of the data getting from the test writing spreading from the students. There are several step of identifying the improvment of writing competence using Blog at MAN 2 Barru.

a. Descriptive Test

Based on the data above, the result of the students score may be seen on the category of the result, the data showed in average score for 78.78 which categorize for Good category. This result may become the valid indicator before getting to the conclusion of the research.

b. Normality Test

The normality test is used to know whether the data obtained is normally distributed or not. Test data of this research uses the formula of chi-square. The research which identify the data. The test homogeneity and test normality were conducted before doing the hypothesis. The both tests are prerequisites that must be carried out before the test whether the data distribution is homogeneous and the data distribution is normally or not.

Table 4.9 Will Presents The Test Of Normality Of The Pre-Test And Post Test Result In Experimental Class.

		Pre test	Post test
N		18	18
Normal Parameters ^{a,b}	Mean	69,9000	66,5000
	Std.	10,65234	10,33157
	Deviation
Most Extreme Differences	Absolute	,183	,199
	Positive	,117	,101
	Negative	-,183	-,199
Kolmogorov-Smirnov Z		1,004	1,091
Asymp. Sig. (2-tailed)		,266	,184

a. Test distribution is Normal.

b. Calculated from data.

Based on the result of test normality, it shows that the data sig value of pre- test was sig = 0.266 and in post test was sig = 0.184. It means that sig value > 0.05. In conclusion, the pre-test and postt test have been distributed normally.

c. Independent T- Test

This research step after conducting normality test, the researcher move to another step of T independent Test. The result below :

Table 4.10 The T independent Test.

	Levene's Test for Equality of Variances		t-test for Equality of Means
	N	Sig.	T	Df	Sig.(2-tailed)	Mean Difference	Std. Error Difference	95% Confidence Interval of the Difference
								Lower
Assumptions	18	,974	,328	2,9	.58	,005	5,766	1,966
Test				2,9	.55,	,005	5,766	1,966

The t-test hypothesis is if the sig value (sig 2.tailed < 0.05 it shows that there are not significant differences in learning result between pre test and post test. Otherwise, if the sig value (sig 2.tailed) > 0.05 it is point out that there are not significant differences between two result test in learning result. The table is known that sig value (sig 2.tailed) of post-test was 0.005 > 0.05 . In conclusion, the result of post-test mean was significant different.

The result of t-test is found that the sig value is lower than 0.05. Consequently, H_A (Hypothesis Alternative) stated that blog media does not improve students' writing competence was accepted. Then, H_0 (Hypothesis Null) stated that blog media improves students' writing competence was rejected. In summary, the use of blog media was effective to improve students writing competence.

B. Discussion

This term present the data discussion which referring from the findings above, this discussion are present based on the findings and the researcher argumentation after analyzing the data in findings.

This section finds out the answer of the research question mentioned in first chapter, which asked about the students' abilities in writing narrative text by using blog.

The researchers explain firstly about the writing which is one of English skills that must be learned by the students. To acquire it, the students should get sufficient writing practices. These practices are supposed to stimulate the students' skill in writing and expressing thoughts in a good passage. Without practicing, it is impossible to write well and effectively. The indicator used in this research focused on several things which referred to the narrative writing which showed on the video to the students.

Based on the result of the research, it showed that students used blog for write narrative text. The researcher assumed that some problem appear among the result of the students result writing was about in their writing, many students do not know how to discrepancy between the theme and the title, sentence structure errors, inappropriate character traits and unclear storylines, use of punctuation and paragraph coherence, and some student's did not able to write orientation, even complication and resolution.

Narrative text basically explained about storytelling at its most basic: it's all about sharing something that happens to a character. It can be an epic tale or a small anecdote; it can span years of time or a few minutes; it can be fact or fiction.

Some of the students just explained more about the description of the picture were showed in instrument. In fact that narrative writing uses many of the most common elements of storytelling, such as plot, character, setting, conflict, emotion, and a core message you're trying to get across. There are also tried-and-true story archetypes or narrative structures you can use to shape your narrative writing, such as visiting dutungan island or lappa Diana waterpark spot.

Some of the content must be completed for writing processed, such like the content of writing should be clear for the readers so that the readers can understand the message and gain information from it. In order to have a good contents of writing, its contents should be well unified and completed. This term is usually known as unity and completeness, which become characteristic of good writing. There are three things that can be measured in connections with content, the point of information to be brought, the sequence in which the point is presented and formal signals that the reader to guide in understanding the topic fully. In fact some of the students did well after did the treatment for them.

Blog provide an opportunity to make learning activities more interesting. That way students are motivated to learn narrative text. Acoording to Nanang Wahyudi, blogs are one of the strategic learning media to improve an active and interactive learning process¹. By using this blog media, students' writing skills are better and easier to understand in writing narrative texts. As a result, it makes the reader get information from the text. That, it is important for students to use blog media and write narrative texts and to develop their ideas into good writing, even, make readers easy to understand and understand the text. Another indicator shows that after testing the students' writing scores that blogs can help the process of writing narrative texts. In the process of writing the author always pays attention to the content on the blog. This can help us to develop our writing. Therefore, you can choose blog media to express ideas.

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter consists of two sections, they are conclusion and suggestion. Conclusion covers statement to answer the previous problem statement while suggestion covers.

A. Conclusion

The research found, the student's writing competence narrative text after taught with using Blog as Media in Man 2 Barru it's more better to improve writing narrative text. You can see, the data showed in average score for Pre test 56.00 which categorize for Poor category. This result may become the valid indicator before getting to the conclusion of the research and the result of the students score may be seen on the category of the result, the data showed in average score for post test 78.78 which categorize for Good category. Based on the result above, it found that the result of t-test is found that the sig value is lower than 0.05. Consequently, H_A (Hypothesis Alternative) stated that blog media do not improve students' writing competence was accepted. Then, H_0 (Hypothesis Null) stated that blog media improves students' writing competence was rejected. In summary, the use of blog media was effective to improve students' writing competence.

B. Suggestion

Based on the research and discussion, researcher offer three points of ideas aimed to the teacher, students and the next researcher, these points were described as follow:

1. For the English Teacher

The English teachers are suggested to give more practices to the students in writing especially when they are writing English narrative text by using interesting strategy related to the students' ability in developing their ideas and The English teachers also to be more active in teaching learning process. Because of the English teacher has important role in learning success.

2. For the English Student

To keep learning and practicing in narrative text and always trying to improve the existing components in writing assessment so that it can make it easier to develop students writing skills

3. For the Other Researcher

The weakness of this is the limitation in meeting the student's directly. It is recommended for other researchers who are interested in the same field, to pay more attention to their students in using media blog to writing the other kinds of writing and paying attention to the components in writing so that they get maximum result.

First meating :

Dutungan Island

There is a small island in South Sulawesi, Barru Regency, precisely in Cilellang Village, which is the topic of a famous tourist attraction at this time. The island is located not far from the outskirts of the village. The ancients used Katinting to cross the island

In the past, this island was known as the ghost island because it is said that during the Japanese colonial era behind the island there was a cave which was a bunker (hiding hole) for Japanese soldiers during the Indonesian independence revolution. It is known, the cave was named Nippon Cave. The cave is so small that it can only be passed or entered by tilting the body. Adjacent to the Nippon Cave, there is a small island formed from a cluster of hardened lava rocks.

After the colonial period the island became an uninhabited island surrounded by shady trees and a stretch of fine white sand. Until 1933 the island changed its status to Jambolangan's private property.

The island which was originally a dense forest then transformed into a tourist island called duntungan. To cross the island, a special boat is prepared for visitors.

Until now the Island has become a favorite tourist spot with beautiful views, and extraordinary facilities.

Second Meeting :

The legend of Malin Kundang

A long time ago, in a small village near the beach in West Sumatra, a woman and her son lived. They were Malin Kundang and his mother. His mother was a single parent because Malin Kundang's father had passed away when he was a baby. Malin Kundang had to live hard with his mother.

Malin Kundang was a healthy, diligent, and strong boy. He usually went to sea to catch fish. After getting fish he would bring it to his mother, or sold the caught fish in the town. One day, when Malin Kundang was sailing, he saw a merchant's ship which was being raided by a small band of pirates. He helped the merchant. With his brave and power, Malin Kundang defeated the pirates.

The merchant was so happy and thanked to him. In return the merchant asked Malin Kundang to sail with him. To get a better life, Malin Kundang agreed. He left his mother alone. Many years later, Malin Kundang became wealthy. He had a huge ship and was helped by many ship crews loading trading goods. Perfectly he had a beautiful wife too. When he was sailing his trading journey, his ship landed on a beach near a small village. The villagers recognized him. The news ran fast in the town; “Malin Kundang has become rich and now he is here”. An old woman ran to the beach to meet the new rich merchant. She was Malin Kundang’s mother.

She wanted to hug him, released her sadness of being lonely after so long time. Unfortunately, when the mother came, Malin Kundang who was in front of his well-dressed wife and his ship crews denied meeting that old lonely woman. For three times her mother begged Malin Kundang and for three times he yelled at her. At least Malin Kundang said to her “Enough, old woman! I have never had a mother like you, a dirty and ugly woman!” After that he ordered his crews to set sail. He would leave the old mother again but in that time she was full of both sadness and angriness. Finally, enraged, she cursed Malin Kundang that he would turn into a stone if he didn’t apologize. Malin Kundang just laughed and really set sail.

In the quiet sea, suddenly a thunderstorm came. His huge ship was wrecked and it was too late for Malin Kundang to apologize. He was thrown by the wave out of his ship. He fell on a small island. It was really too late for him to avoid his curse. Suddenly, he turned into a stone.

Third Meeting :

Diana Waterpark

One Afternoon at Diana Waterpark. Hooray holidays have arrived! Aan's sister and Alisa's sister. Well, the confused sister, what do they want to fill their vacation with? Several options have been offered: to Grandma's house in Cilelang, Barru town, or to Lasonrai Beach, but all answered with a shake of the head. So that the holidays are not too dry, I agreed to take the younger siblings out more often during the past two weeks.

Yesterday, July 2, 2022, we took the time to take Brother and Adek Alisa to Diana Waterpark. Diana Waterpark is a new tourist destination located in Balusu Village, Balusu District, Barru Regency, and South Sulawesi Province.

We left at almost 11.00 am. The sun is high. But it doesn't matter, the distance is quite close, only about 20 minutes of leisurely ride from Siddo. In the car, the siblings even sleep. Maybe tired all morning moving on. Approaching the new location they were awakened

Oh yes, the owner of the shop where we bought snacks said that yesterday a visitor died at Diana waterpark. I then asked back "So, now there are no visitors, ma'am?" "A lot," he said. There's no need to worry, besides, online media reports that the student who died was probably tired. Apparently really crowded, lots of cars in the parking lot. The entrance ticket to Diana Water park is Rp. 35,000/person, there is no difference in rates between adults and small children. After the tickets were handed over to the officers, we entered half-running... because we were chasing two kids who had already sped off.

Eh, you know how good this place is...hehehe it's amazing in itself.

Really suitable as a place for family recreation. The flower garden stretches out in front of the eyes, colorful. Even after observing, it turns out that some types of flowers such as orchids are not original but artificial. Another impressive thing is that there are various imitations of animals in this place, such as deer, seals, elephants, and even dinosaurs complete with eggs. Don't ask how the kids react. They ran up to each animal and asked to be photographed. In this park there is also a small prayer room, where we and other visitors pray dhuhur in congregation.

Of course, as the name suggests "Diana Waterpark", there is a water playground available, namely a pool equipped with a slide. Before leaving, I had prepared clothes to get wet, but I couldn't jump because I saw that the pool was too crowded. So I just sat under a tree watching my younger siblings.

Satisfied with playing in the water, we took Brother Aan and Adek Alisa up the hill. Eh, how good again.... The green rice fields that we passed on the way, can be seen from here. Likewise, the rides in the Diana waterpark area, all can be seen from the top of the hill. There are also many photo spots, instagramable. It's not a loss when you're struggling to climb :D. Seeing that our time has been too long, we finally go home. We were so busy exploring Diana Waterpark that we forgot to eat :D

A long time ago, in a small village near the beach in West Sumatra, a woman and her son lived. They were Malin Kundang and his mother. His mother was a single parent because Malin Kundang's father had passed away when he was a baby. Malin Kundang had to live hard with his mother.

Malin Kundang was a healthy, diligent, and strong boy. He usually went to sea to catch fish. After getting fish he would bring it to his mother, or sold the caught fish in the town. One day, when Malin Kundang was sailing, he saw a merchant's ship which was being raided by a small band of pirates. He helped the merchant. With his brave and power, Malin Kundang defeated the pirates.

The merchant was so happy and thanked to him. In return the merchant asked Malin Kundang to sail with him. To get a better life, Malin Kundang agreed. He left his mother alone. Many years later, Malin Kundang became wealthy. He had a huge ship and was helped by many ship crews loading trading goods. Perfectly he had a beautiful wife too. When he was sailing his trading journey, his ship landed on a beach near a small village. The villagers recognized him. The news ran fast in the town; “Malin Kundang has become rich and now he is here”. An old woman ran to the beach to meet the new rich merchant. She was Malin Kundang’s mother.

She wanted to hug him, released her sadness of being lonely after so long time. Unfortunately, when the mother came, Malin Kundang who was in front of his well-dressed wife and his ship crews denied meeting that old lonely woman. For three times her mother begged Malin Kundang and for three times he yelled at her. At least Malin Kundang said to her “Enough, old woman! I have never had a mother like you, a dirty and ugly woman!” After that he ordered his crews to set sail. He would leave the old mother again but in that time she was full of both sadness and anger. Finally, enraged, she cursed Malin Kundang that he would turn into a stone if he didn’t apologize. Malin Kundang just laughed and really set sail.

In the quiet sea, suddenly a thunderstorm came. His huge ship was wrecked and it was too late for Malin Kundang to apologize. He was thrown by the wave out of his ship. He fell on a small island. It was really too late for him to avoid his curse. Suddenly, he turned into a stone.
