_Research Instrument_

In this research, the instrument that will be used to collect and analyze the data are Recorder and the researcher itself. Data will be collected by doing directly observation in the Classroom. The researcher observes the interaction between the teacher and the students. It will use Recorder to make the researcher easily observe the Interactional language that the subject of study use when doing interaction in the Classroom.

The main component in interaction is there will be some conversations, such as Opening, Initiation, Response, and Feedback. So that, the Interaction in the classroom can be Observed by checking the list of Some activities that will be done by the teacher and students in the class.
